Google Cloud Platform Fundamentals: Core Infrastructure <no-reply@t.mail.coursera.org>
To: Manohar Chaudhari <msc.sit@sinhgad.edu>

25 July 2020 at 19:26

Dear Manohar Chaudhari,

Welcome to Google Cloud Platform Fundamentals: Core Infrastructure. This first course in the specialization is a gateway to the platform. It introduces common services such as application deployment environments (Google App Engine, Kubernetes Engine, and Compute Engine), storage (Cloud Storage), data warehouse (BigQuery), and data services (Cloud SQL, Cloud DataStore, Cloud Bigtable), monitoring, logging, and diagnostics services (Google Stackdriver), and infrastructure automation (Cloud Deployment Manager). You will learn to choose among the services and get hands on experience with many services including BigQuery, Cloud Deployment Manager, and Google Stackdriver.

WHAT TO EXPECT

This course should take about one week to complete (6-10 total hours). By the end of this first course you'll be able to allocate, setup, and use infrastructure leveraging Google Cloud Platform core services. You'll learn how to distinguish different services and decide which services to consider for your particular application and uses. Finally, you will get hands-on practice automating infrastructure with an Infrastructure as Code (IaC) service and setting up and integrated logging and monitoring which is key to practical, maintainable, reliable solutions.

Happy learning,

The Google Cloud Team
