IEEE Day Event Conducted Under: Student Branch of IEEE SIT, Lonavala

Activity Type: Webinar and Robo-Soccer Competition.

Target Group: Undergraduate students of SIT and AISSMS COE.

Brief Summary about Webinar: -

In collaboration with the IEEE BS SAC, the IEEE SIT SB, Lonavala, and IEEE AISSMSCOE, Pune hosted a two-phase event known as "RoboSphere." The first phase featured a webinar aimed at educating participants on essential robotics concepts and systems, and the second phase focused on showcasing their mechanical robot skills.

Phase 1:

An online webinar commenced with the host introducing the speaker, Dr. Shital Chiddarwar, Professor at from Visvesvaraya National Institute of Technology and Center Head at siemens. The Speaker started the webinar by enlightening participants on major facilities of industry 4.0 and digitalization, followed by various types of robots, path planning, Autonomous mobile review, Literature review, real life projects on robots and Human engagement with robots. Interaction and doubt solving was done with the participants.

Phase 2:

Phase 2 was started with the inauguration of the event by Dr. D. S. Bormane the Principal of AISSMSCOE, Pune and brief interaction was done with the participants which motivated the participants for the competition. Matches began with Round 1 where participants played 3 min

Robo-Soccer matches. Winners of round 1 were selected further for round 2 followed by round 3 accordingly. At the end of the day 2 winners were declared from 15 participants.

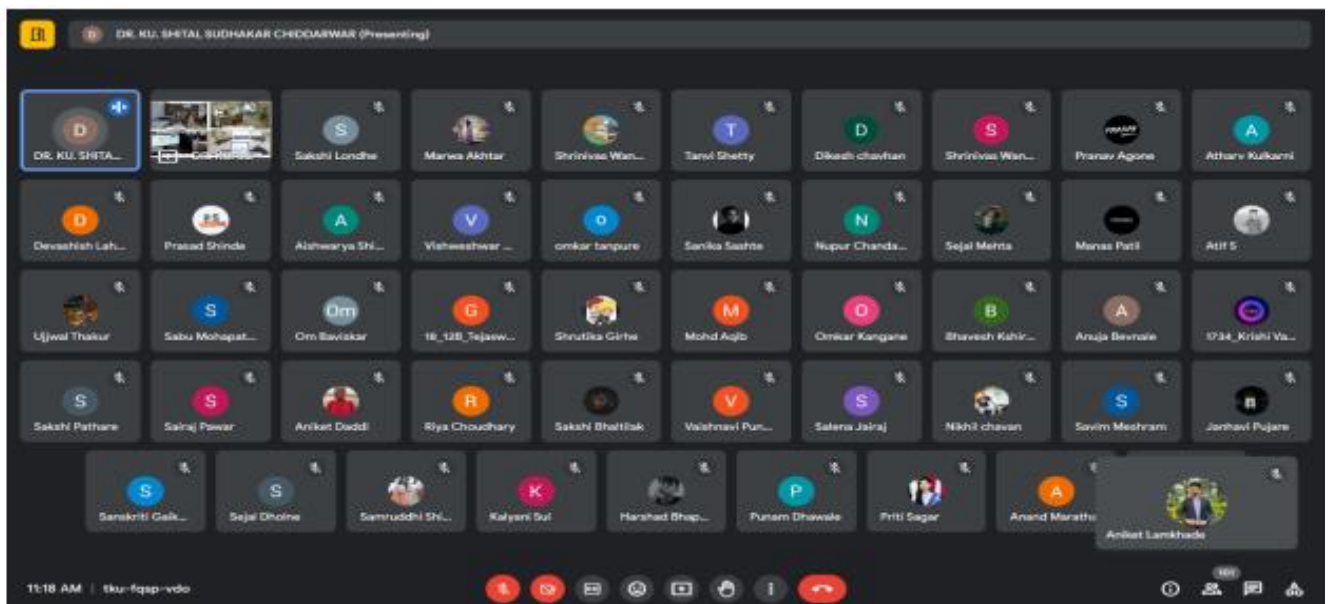

Outcomes of organized activity:

Apart from gaining new skills and knowledge about robotics, the event gave the participants an opportunity to interact with an expert and others by getting their doubts solved. It enlightened students in the field of robotics and AI/ML together, skill development and networking. Not only this but it helped participants to evaluate the competitive results and skill development to technological innovation and educational value. This event served as a platform for the convergence of robotics, artificial intelligence, and sportsmanship.

Challenges faced during the course of activity planning to execution:

Due to the distinct locations of both Student Branches (SBs), a significant hurdle revolved around managing time and establishing clear objectives. To accommodate university exams, class attendance modes, and more, meetings were scheduled in a manner that ensured the presence of all organizing team members. Initially, there was a learning curve for team members to become acquainted with each other, but this was overcome by conducting regular meetings and fostering familiarity. In the end, both SBs exhibited equal dedication to ensuring the seamless execution of the event.
